

Indwelling Sin in Believers by John Owen

Chapter 2: The Law of Sin

1. In characterizing indwelling sin as a law Owen mentions two properties every law must have. What are they?
2. What are the two kinds of dominion?
3. Does sin have a “right to rule” in the lives of believers?
4. Sanctions involves both rewards and punishments. What are the rewards of the law of sin?
5. What are the punishments threatened by the law of sin?
6. Is the world able to resist the law of sin?
7. What two kinds of law are there?
8. What kind of law is the law of sin?
9. Owen uses the law of God as an illustration.
 1. First, the law was _____
 2. Then the law in the natural man was _____
 3. Next. The law was renewed and written on _____
 4. Finally, in regeneration the law is _____
10. How is the law of sin like this illustration from God’s law?
11. Where is the seat and throne of the law of sin?
12. Owen mentions many advantages that the law of indwelling sin has. Name three.
13. How are our minds, affections, and wills affected by indwelling sin?
14. Why are many who are in the world not aware of this law? How does it affect them?
15. What will hopefully be the result the more men know of sin in themselves?